Looking Ahead

Demos:

TBD – Debbie Goodrow – Something Great!
TBD – Simple Slicer Demo – Carole Monahan-Kampfe

Clay ConneCTion 2016 Thursday, July 28 - Sunday, July 31, 2016, at Connecticut College in New London.

Another possible Clay Day in West Haven? The room is really comfortable and the staff is very supportive. Sharon can make arrangements in August for a Clay Day in September or October. Let's discuss.

We will be doing the "Tree of Hope" to benefit the Ronald McDonald House again this year. Details to follow.

Tracy Van Buskirk emailed about the Newtown Arts Festival Sept 17 & 18 - will be running a weekend long tent called "Make". There will be an exciting rotation of guided arts and crafts all weekend for all ages. She would LOVE to have a Bottles of Hope workshop! So please think about who would like to run that. They can supply volunteers to help. Tracy can schedule a BOH workshop for Sunday, Sept 18th, anytime between 10 and 4 although she thinks 11-1 would be good. But she is flexible. Other tents will have other activities so things will be going on, but Tracy says the MAKE tent will be the BEST!

Clay ConneCTion 2016 - The Southern Connecticut Polymer Clay Guild's 10th Retreat!WHAT TO EXPECT:

A relaxing, inspiring weekend filled with fun, friendship and all things polymer clay. Set up your tools and play. Feel the creative spirit. It doesn't matter if this is your first retreat or you've come to them all, the atmosphere is friendly, welcoming and sharing. Create, relax, play, share, learn, shop and have fun!

HIGHLIGHTS:

Check our Facebook page www.facebook.com/scpcg.org for more updates as we get closer to the retreat:

Freedom Swap: We are getting a bit tired of swapping 1-inch tiles, so this year you are free to swap whatever you'd like, even 1-inch tiles.

Retreat Marketplace: A showcase space to sell your stuff. More details to follow.

Thursday Evening: Welcome Reception "Wear Your Work or Your Favorite Outfit" - wine, beer & soft drinks provided. Dress up and wear your work or a piece by one of your favorite polymer clay artists! Let's show off our beautiful work while meeting and catching up with the other artist attendees.

Ongoing Demos: Demonstrations of a variety of techniques will be held throughout the weekend, freely given by many of the retreat attendees. Demonstrations generally cover a wide range of techniques from beginner to advanced. Please consider giving a demo!

Massage Therapist available for extra pampering Friday and Saturday. Additional fee payable $35 for a half hour, $65 for an hour.

Friday Afternoon: Bottles of Hope Themed Challenge, more details to come

Friday evening free: We have not planned any special events for Friday evening to give you the option to leave campus and try out one of the many great restaurants in the area or perhaps visit nearby Mohegan Sun Casino. Or you can stick around and continue to play with clay!

Saturday Afternoon: The Auction – There is always an array of amazing items. Please consider donating something to the auction.

Saturday Evening: Left Center Right Poker, a simple passing game using polymer clay poker chips (make 3 per game, 9 at the most). A simple and silly game. Adult beverages will be provided for those who are interested.

Sunday: Bottles of Hope Challenge – Bottles will be available throughout the weekend. Help us with our ongoing project and make a bottle or two or more. If you'd like, please enter your bottles in our fun Bottles of Hope Challenge. There will be ribbons awarded in a variety of fun and creative categories. Bottles will be distributed to area cancer patients after the retreat.

And LOTS more! We are still planning

WHAT TO BRING:

Polymer Clay Tools and Supplies: Bring the tools and supplies you feel you need to play with polymer clay throughout the weekend. For some people that can mean transporting a nearly complete studio, but that's not required. Definitely bring the basics: clay, work surface, pasta machine, motor if you've got one, blades, needle tool, cutters, notebook and pen for the demos, tile or card stock to bake on. A task light and power strip are helpful.

Beyond that bring whatever you feel you'll need to create. Remember, if you've forgotten anything, you will be in a room full of polymer clay enthusiasts who will be happy to share. Bring some of your own work to show off! Retreat attendees are welcome to sell any of their own work from their work space. You are responsible for any and all tax collection and reporting.

For the dorm room: Linens are supplied by the college (sheets and towels), but there are a few comfort items you might consider bringing.

- An extra towel if you'd like one
- Your own pillow
- An inexpensive twin size foam mattress topper (or whatever else you need to make the basic college dorm mattress more comfortable). Hint: If you bring a twin fitted sheet from home you can just slip it and the foam pad over the sheet already on the bed and not have to completely strip the bed. Plus it prevents that awkward situation where the sheets come un-tucked and you're sleeping on the bare plastic mattress.
- A blanket – when the college cranks up the air conditioning prior to arrival it can make the dorms clammy and downright cold. Bring along a blanket and you'll be more comfortable.
- A robe and shower shoes (remember the shared dorm bathrooms)

QUESTIONS: If you have any questions or need further information, please contact Sharon Mihalyak SharChar@gmail.com or Libby Mills Libzoid@gmail.com

Polymer Bangle Bracelet Time: 11 am - 2 pm

Bangle bracelets are a lot of fun – and polymer is a perfect medium for making your own! You will learn to make bangle bracelets completely from polymer. Lightweight and flexible, these bangles may also be sized, even after baking. We will make a simple “crissy” cane for decoration and will explore ways to cover the joint. It is also possible to make the bracelet continuous, with no seam.

Hollow Tubes or Beads with “Sound” Time: 9 am - 2 pm

Learn to make a hollow horizontal bead or vertical cylinder to use as a pendant or a lamp or fan pull or earrings or We won't stop there, though. We will also learn how to make your bead jingle with sound. This is a fun and fascinating project that should spark other ideas. Materials Costs: Students will need a pasta machine, a glossy work surface and a tissue blade. Clay is also needed in colors of the student's choosing. Items such as clay ($2 per package) will be available for purchase at instructor's cost, if desired.

Exploring Swirls and Snail Shell Designs

Time: 9 am - 2 pm

Here is a perfect project for those lazy, hazy summer days of August. Participants will learn to make a couple of different canes that simulate the wonderful swirl on snail shells. Slices from these canes can be used in a wide variety of ways. For added fun, we will also make some 3-dimensional snail shells. These can be small, large, or somewhere in-between, and can be used in a variety of ways. Materials Costs: Students will need a pasta machine, a glossy work surface and a tissue blade. Clay is also needed in colors of the student's choosing. Items such as clay ($2 per package) will be available for purchase at instructor's cost, if desired.

Faux Bronze magic for Polymer Jewelry with Gwen Gibson

Review by Christy Sherman

This is one of my favorites and I've watched it several times. Give it a try, even if you're not interested in faux bronze effects using patinas.

She starts off with image transfer techniques, shows you how to make your own symmetrical shape templates from paper, and covers a number of framing options which you could use with any type of clay centerpiece. Just watching how she handles the clay is inspiring. Then she finishes off with metal paints and patinas to oxidize the frames.

By the way, when re-watching a video that you're already familiar with, you can speed up the play back (search button on some remotes). You'll still be able to hear the audio but it will move along at a less nap-inducing speed ;)

Did you enjoy the DVD you watched? Hated it? Thought the book you took out was helpful? Write a short review (approx. 50-200 words) to let other members know what you think and submit it to: Debbie Goodrow at DGoodrow@gmail.com

Not comfortable writing the review, well Debbie has offered to help. Just email her your thoughts, what you liked, didn't like, and any anything else you specifically wanted to say. It only takes a few minutes, doesn't have to be long, and is a great way to participate even if you can't attend the meetings.
